

HuggaMind™

Take care.

HuggaMind, Inc. is dedicated to providing universal non-verbal communications to enhance life for people of all ages with mobile device apps and products specially designed for parents, infants, caregivers, and travelers.

Founded in 2010 and based outside of New York City, HuggaMind is the brainchild of Mies Hora, a proud father, career graphic designer and president of Ultimate Symbol, the professional digital art leader.

Armed with fresh understanding of the importance of providing enhanced brain stimulation as an essential part of early child development, as well as caring for his loved ones and an aging parent, life enhancing and educational mobile device apps quickly became the creative focus for Mies and his creative team.

Known worldwide for his expertise in international non-verbal communications and signage systems, Mies is also the author of several industry standard references, including Official Signs & Icons 2 and Design Elements 5.

Beautifully designed, functionally smart, low-cost, and eco-friendly, HuggaMind apps and products are the perfect compliment to caregivers and communicators of any age, whether traveling or caring for others.
