To All My Snuggle Friends

Thank you for all the congrats, the kvelling, the oohs and ahs, the tears of joy. It's a gas being here, both literally and figuratively. But seriously, I'm having such a great time snuggling into my new surroundings. My bedroom is a real womb with a view. I sleep and eat super-duper well and haven't created too much of a kerfuffle... yet. FYI: Momma is recovering nicely from my grand entrance and she is surely the breast mommy this side of the Hudson! Luv, your new buddy, Huddy
